Medical Artists' Education Trust - Postgraduate Programme in Medical Art

Students applying to follow this course and who fulfill the recommended requirements will be invited for interview in either March/April or September. The Education Committee will be looking for students with commitment, who are very self-motivated to follow this self-directed Programme. The Committee will also wish to see a comprehensive portfolio of artwork showing observational drawing in all areas and in particular life drawing; demonstrating a variety of mediums and techniques. Examples of scientific and medical artwork may be included, but it is not essential.

The Programme starts in October and includes three terms with seminars held three times each term. Seminars are held primarily in London. In addition there are workshops and an Annual Conference, all of which are an essential part of the Course.

All students must successfully complete to a high standard, the initial short comprehensive drawing foundation programme which is an important element of this course and precedes the main body of coursework of this postgraduate programme in medical art.

Assessments are arranged twice a year, taking place at the Barber-Surgeons' Hall, London, where the Examining Board views and marks completed work.
